Q-1 Read the following passage carefully and answers the questions given below it:-

Punctuality is a necessary habit in all public affairs of a civilized society without it nothing could ever be brought to a conclusion. Everything would be in a state of chaos. Only in a sparsely populated rural community it is possible to disregard it. In ordinary living there can be some tolerance of unpunctuality. The intellectual who is working on some difficult problem has everything co-ordinated and organized for the matter in hand. He is therefore, forgiven, if late for the dinner party. It is hard for energetic quick minded people to, waste time so they are often tempted to finish a job before setting out to keep an appointment. If no accidents occur on the way, like punctured tyres, diversion of traffic and sudden descent of fog, they will be on time. They are often more industrious useful citizens than those who are never late. The over punctual can as much be a trial to others as the unpunctual . The guest who arrives half an hour too soon is the greatest nuisance. Some friends of my family had this irritating habit. The only thing to do was to ask them to come half an hour later than the other guest. Then they arrived just when we wanted them.

If you are catching a train it is always better to be comfortably early, than even a fraction of a minute too late. Although being early may mean wasting of time, this will be less than if you miss the train and have to wait an hour or so for the next one, and you avoid the frustration of arriving at the very moment when the train is drawing out of the station and being unable to get on it.

1- Question :-

- i) ..... is a necessary habit in all public affairs.
  - a. Carelessness
  - b. Punctuality
- ii) What is hard for quick minded people ?
  - a. To save time
  - b. to waste time
- iii) What type of guests are the greatest nuisance ?
  - a. Those who arrive before the fixed time.
  - b. Those who arrive after the fixed time.
- iv) It is always better to reach at the station before the time because .....
  - a. The chance of missing the train is not much.
  - b. The chance of missing the train is much.
- v) What is passage about .....
  - a. It is about the importance of punctuality.
  - b. It is about wasting of time.
- vi) Supply a word from the passage which is opposite of punctuality.
- vii) Supply a word from the passage which is similar in meaning to disappointment.
- viii) Supply a word from the passage which is the noun form of punctual.
- ix) Why is punctuality is a necessary habit in all public affairs ?
- x) Whom does the author call to be more industries useful citizen ?

Q-2 People look upon poverty as a great evil and it seems to be unaccepted belief that if people only had plenty of money, they would be happy and get more out of life as a rule, there is more genuine satisfaction and more is obtained from life in the humble cottages of the poor men than the places of the rich. I always pity the sons and daughter of rich men, who are attended by servants and have governesses at a late age at the same time, I am glad to think that they do not know what they have missed.

It is because I know how sweet and happy and pure the home of honest poverty is, how free from perplexing cares and from social envies and jealousies how loving and united its members are in the common interest of supporting the family that I sympathize with the rich man's boy and congratulate the poor man's son. It is For the reasons that from the ranks of the poor so many strong, eminent, self reliant men have always sprung and always must spring. If you read the list of the immortals who were not born to die, you will find that most of them have been poor.

Question :-

- a) On the basis of your reading the passage make notes, using heading and sub-heading. Also use recognizable abbreviations, wherever necessary (minimum 4). Supply a suitable title to it.
- b) Write a summary of the above passage based on your notes in about 80 words.

A Scene at a Busy Bus Stand

(6)

When I reached the bus stand to receive my uncle. I saw a number of buses and booking offices with queues on a couple of them. As there were not enough chairs and benches some passengers had to squat on the floor. There was no drinking water. The condition of toilet was very bad. There were a number of stalls. A couple of vendors were moving about with plastic toys and other things. On the other side of the platform there were a lot of buses. On the farther side a bus arrival and I rushed to receive my quest but it wasn't the one by which he was arriving. Finally his bus arrived.

OR

Last Sunday I went to the hospital to see a relative who was suffering from chicken guniya. As I entered the building. I saw some people waiting to be registered, while others standing in queues, in front of doctors rooms. I went past the block and took the stairs leading to the first floor. There I saw the surgical ward with patients lying on their beds with nurses attending to some of them. Then came the medical ward and I saw my relative lying on a bed. He gave me a faint smile and said that he was getting better but will have to stay there for some more time I stayed with him for about half an hour and then took my leave promising to visit again.

- (v) Good deeds and happy thoughts that repeat in our dream in our work and in our rest account for beauty in ourselves.

- (i) The title of the poem 'A of Life' is quite apt. It is in reality, a devotional and inspiring song. In this poem, not only the philosophy of life has been dealt with but the poet also teaches how we should act in life. Life is not an empty dream it is real and earnest. This world is like a battle field and we should fight bravely with the struggles of life. So we must forget the past and the future and act in the present without caring for the result. The poem is really an inspiration to one and all.
- (ii) The statement means a man should do his best on each day. We want to live in future because we think that happiness lies in future. So we live in future. The past is where the problem began, So we live in the past. But every good thing that has ever happened, happened now, right now, we are 'born' when we wake up and we will 'die' when we go to sleep.

Wooden always focused on today. Wooden covered the major portion of his coaching philosophy by the inspiration from his father's sentence 'Make each day your master piece'.

- (iii) Beauty is the essence of the world. If we are beautiful inside. We can see beauty everywhere and every time. During day, beauty can be seen in trees, bird and corn fields. During night, beauty can be heard in the wind sighing, the rain falling or a singer chanting. Good deeds and happy thoughts account for beauty in oneself. According to the poet, one should perform good deeds and possess happy thoughts in dreams, work and even during rest. Croche says, "Handsome it that hand some does. 'The world is the manifestation of our inner feeling and thoughts. If we are beautiful inside, everything outside will look beautiful to us.
